Thematic Workshops to develop the City of Tomorrow Re-Imagine, Dream and Plan our City Together!

Dollard-des-Ormeaux, October 10th, 2023 – As part of an on-going consultative process for the future Urban Planning Programme, the City of Dollard-des-Ormeaux is organizing two thematic workshops on October 11 and November 8 at 7 p.m., at the Civic Centre of Dollard-des-Ormeaux.

These workshops will allow our citizens to make their voice and their vision of the territory heard, by exchanging views around discussion tables, and together finding possible solutions and innovative ideas to develop our City of tomorrow.

The City strongly encourages all residents and news media to participate in the thematic workshops, which will offer citizens the opportunity to explore topics that touch their daily lives and shape their vision of urban planning in the neighbourhoods in which they live. The workshop on October 11th will focus on traffic and mobility in the city, while the workshop on November 8th will look at the future and development of our urban boulevards (Saint-Jean, Des Sources, etc.).

Thus, the City concludes the consultative activities planned for the fall, as mentioned during the August 30th webconference. Through these consultative and interactive activities, we will be able, in 2024, to adopt a new Urban Planning Programme and related by-laws better adapted to the specific social, economic and environmental realities of our territory and to the vision of our residents.

You will find more information about the thematic workshops of October 11th and November 8th, the Urban Planning Programme revision process and our participatory approach on our website.
